

Texma's diaphragms and discharge crosses are precision machined from high quality steel casting to assure replacement parts of OEM conformance under extreme pressures, and available in a variety of styles and sizes.

